

One for the environment

No fossil fuel stench or offal

Power and force gracefully wrought

One for the environment

On common land of common man

Turquoise blue the seas beneath.

One for the environment

Wings on the constant move

Except for the inert one of eighteen

One for the environment

The lesson that lies in the wind and the waves

More than the classroom textbook can speak of

One for the environment

Sea mist comes on in

Dispersed by blades of strength

One for the environment

Swift fluid movers swirl on

Cut through past, present and future.

By Gillian Clark